WASHINGTON—Five million men must be sent on the battle front by the United States within a year, Senator M'Cumber of North Dakota declared today in an address to the senate, which reviewed America's work during its first year in the war. "The results of America's efforts have been almost negligible up to the present," he said. "Six months have been wasted by the shipping board and the $10,000,000 for aircraft has been worse than squandered."

"If we fail to put less than five million men on the fighting line before the end of another year," he continued, "we will again have grossly failed to measure up to our moral duty. We will have charged to our discredit another year of colossal blunders."

Senator M'Cumber contrasted a statement of President Schwab, of the emergency fleet corporation, that the United States would produce ship tonnage of only ten million dead weight in 1919, with the estimates of the United States of seven million tons in 1918, and said:

"A program which contemplates but ten million tonnage is trifling with the most serious question that ever confronted the people of this country. It is worse than trifling, it is suicidal."

"Our only hope of winning this war is being able to keep our allies in the field another year. That means that it is incumbent upon us to supply them with food. If we can't send food and munitions to those who are fighting our battles,"

As a preface to his conclusions, Senator M'Cumber asserted that the United States had lacked most of the foresight and determination to get on and be doing, "when the flying squadrons of that great world war threatened to produce a conflagration that might force us on the firing line."

"We seem to have gotten so bewildered in a maze of little things that we have lost sight of the great requirements," he said. "The failure of our shipping board is the most aggravating example of failure to grasp a big situation."

Unparalleled extravagance along every line of national endeavor was another reason of failure, the North Dakota senator contended.

"We have been literally burning up the money which the taxpayers have cheerfully paid to create and support a fighting army," he charged. "While we can't win this war without buying Liberty bonds, neither can we win it by making bonfires of the money received from Liberty bonds."

The bluster of the public press, he said, which has grossly exaggerated everything in our favor, had been another factor in the delay.

It cost the state of Wisconsin sixty-five cents for each soldier vote recorded in the recent April election.

Total vote cast was 3,457 divided as follows: Camp Grant, Rockford, Illinois, 1082; Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Michigan, 914; Camp MacArthur, Waco, Texas, 235; Camp Pike, Little Rock, Arkansas, 300; Camp Green, Charlotte, N. The cost of securing the soldier vote at the recent special election for United States senator was: Expense and per diem of messengers, $2,014.69; Printing etc., $132.43; Chests, bags, etc., $90.00. (Congressman I. L. Lenroot was given a majority of all of the soldier votes for senator.

EXPECT MORE CANDIDATES TO ENTER LISTSAnnouncement of Gov.
Philipp and Treasurer
Johnson Soon

With the first set of republican candidates in the field it is now expected that other nominations and announcements will be forthcoming. As has been the custom for the past four years the conservative republicans are expected to hold a convention here the latter part of May. Governor Philipp will be chosen as the republican standard bearer. This convention is expected to endorse Secretary of State Meritt Hull, State Treasurer Henry Johnson and Attorney General Spencer Haven for office.

It is altogether probable that Lieutenant Governor Dittmar will not be endorsed. Meantime there is talk of one of not two other conventions. The friends of Francis E. McGovern are urging him to enter into the contest. Mr. McGovern was in Madison last night, but declined to discuss the matter.

Then there is a probability that Roy P. Wilcox of Eau Claire will announce his candidacy on a republican loyalty platform. It is intimated that on this same ticket will be found that name of Alvin Peterson, Soldiers' Grove, as a candidate for state treasurer; and Philip Lechney, Princeton, as a candidate for attorney general.

The La Follette people are keeping quiet. Whether they intend to put an entire ticket in the field, or allow certain individuals to announce their candidacies has not been determined upon. J. D. Beck, Viroqua, who was urged to be a candidate for governor some time ago, intimated that he had no intention of entering the race. Should there be a La Follette ticket named by a regular conference it is quite likely that most of the farmers' tickets would be endorsed.

CALL FOR 6,207

FOR SERVICEMovement of Recruits
From 75 Occupations to Begin May 17

WASHINGTON—State officials today received calls for men to fill the May draft quota. Officials here did not make public the number of men to be called, but it is estimated that about 250,000 will be inducted into service during the month. The men will start for the camps about May 25.

WASHINGTON—A call for 6,207 skilled men for the national army was sent out today by Provost Marshal General Crowder. All states are included excepting New Jersey. It directs the movement of the men on May 17.

The men represent about 75 occupations. They include chauffeurs, carpenters, engineers, stenographers, telegraph operators, wireless operators, and welders. They will be attached to the medical corps, the gas defense service, the quartermaster corps, the ordnance department, the signal corps and the corps of engineers.

ST. PAUL—A call for 313 of 1,340 Minnesota draft registrants, who will volunteer for service in occupations they are familiar with, was received today by the adjutant general. The first of the men—telephone operators—are to enter May 8 for camp. The next contingent will leave on May 17.

BAKER ASKS FOR
$15,000,000,000
TO AID IN WARTells Committee Contractors
Are to Blame for Failure of Air Program

WASHINGTON—Detailed estimates of funds needed for all branches of the army service were submitted to the house military committee today by Secretary Baker and his aides. The session was executive.

The secretary yesterday asked the committee for unlimited authority as to the number of men that may be put into service.

Secretary Baker's estimates for the immediate war program, as submitted to the military, total approximately $15,000,000,000, he said today. The principal increases are in the ordnance bureau and the quartermaster general's department.

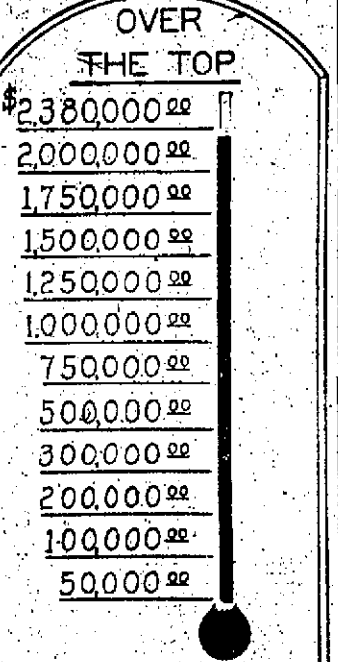

The secretary said the airplane program had not met expectations, and blamed the situation on overconfidence of the government and lack of ability of contractors to fulfill their contracts as speedily as they had promised. He said the Liberty motor was beginning to be produced in quantity and that it was an unqualified success, so much so that foreign governments wanted to use it. He told of the needs of various bureaus, in the light of the knowledge he obtained in Europe. His trip, he said, opened his eyes to the magnitude of operations.

The hearings will be resumed Monday and the committee plans to report the bill to the house the last of next week.

While Secretary Baker was discussing army expansion, Secretary Daniels and his chief aides were outlining the navy's needs to the senate naval committee in connection with the $1,358,000,000 naval appropriation bill passed by the house.

At noon Fitchburg came in, going from twenty-fourth place with 91 per cent to a tie with Springdale for twentieth place.

Dunn jumped to second place with a percentage of 146, displacing Deerfield which now is led by Oregon with 143 per cent and with 146. A feature of today's reports was Unofficial reports received at the headquarters of the Dane county Liberty loan committee Friday afternoon showed that the county would go $100,000 over its quota.

The fact that Blooming Grove climbed 13 per cent to a place where it is reasonably certain that it will go over the top probably the result of the work done in that town by Chairman Holmerson by F. B. Wynne and Railroad Commissioner Trumbower.

Madison, with $1,289,150 subscribed and a percentage of 98 is twenty-sixth place with Verona, with 93 per cent and only $700 needed to beat the city over the top.

J. B. Borden has not yet accepted the position as secretary of the Wisconsin council of defense. He was elected to the position this week, but the regents of the University of Wisconsin has just elected him as assistant dean of the agricultural college. Many of the university authorities feel that the assistant deanship should be filled at once. A new man may be elected to fill the secretaryship of the defense council.

A. H. Melville is now in charge of the secretarial and of the food conservation work. He formerly was secretary to the defense and federal food work, but Gov. Philipp advised that the work be separated.

It is the opinion of Senator Sanborn that no election should be held until fall. Senator Sanborn said that things had quieted down in Ashland after Governor Philipp had sent an investigator there to probe acts of lawlessness.

THREE RIVERS, Que.—Five, which broke out in the business section here today, quickly destroyed forty houses on Bonaventure street. The flames spread to the nearby streets and the families were compelled to leave their houses because of the tremendous heat. Help has been asked from Quebec and Montreal.

The fire is reported to have started in the Victoria theatre, which collapsed.

Three Rivers, an industrial and manufacturing city of about 10,000 population and a port of entry, is 75 miles southwest of the city of Quebec. It is on the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways.

Three Rivers is the second oldest city in Canada. It was visited by a disastrous fire in 1906 when half the city was burned.

WASHINGTON—Attacks on the sedition bill were resumed today in the senate with the principal contest on the conference report eliminating Senator France's amendment, which would permit truthful statements. Senators also denounced the clause authorizing the postmaster general to decide what is non-mailable matter.

Senator Overman, of North Carolina, in charge of the bill, announced at the outset that he would keep the senate in session all night if necessary to dispose of the measure.

Senator McCumber, of North Carolina, replied to critics; and said the bill would not interfere with liberty of speech.

CHRIST'S BIRTHPLACE
GUARDED BY YOUNG
BRITISH SOLDIER

LONDON—From Bethlehem a youthful British soldier writes to a friend here:

"I am on guard at present, and it is a great honor. I can tell you, that I am guarding the birthplace and manger of our Lord. It is a wonderful place and I never thought when I used to read about it that one day I should stand and guard it. The birthplace is marked by a fourteen-pointed silver star, presented by the French government. The stable is hung with lamps from all different countries, and they look beautiful; and, I might add, they are always alight. The manger itself is cut in natural rock, but marble has been put in to keep it in a good state of preservation."

RAILROADS NET

Period

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—During the first three months of government regulation, 114 American railroads showed a net operating income of $54,108,661, against $144,011,399 for the same period under private direction in 1917.

For the three month period, ending with March, interstate commerce commission statistics, issued today, show operating revenues were $726,011,329, against $688,173,857 in 1917; operating expenses $637,784,608, against $512,775,369, and net revenue from railway operations $88,226,721, against $170,338,488. The operating income for March was $50,623,302 as against $57,592,087, the same month last year.

The earnings reports indicate that the government lost more than $100,000,000 in operation of the railroads during January, February and March, although railroad administration officials looked for such a record as a result of bad weather and traffic losses in January. They believe the loss will be made up in later months.

March earnings, although far below normal, are almost twice as much as in February, and are much better than in January, when a deficit in railway operating income was reported.

The commission's report for March is incomplete, since returns are expected from 82 additional roads.

GEN. M'ANDREWS
CHIEF OF STAFFPershing's Aide Will Assume
New Duties at
OnceWITH THE AMERICAN ARMY
IN FRANCE—Major General James W. McAndrews has been appointed chief of staff of the American expeditionary forces, assuming his duties immediately. Brigadier General James G. Harbord, who has been General Pershing's chief of staff, has been assigned to a command in the field, which he will take over this week.

These changes are explained as being in conformity with General Pershing's policy of making shifts among the officers of the general staff. In this process some are sent to the field and replaced with others who have been on the front and by reason of recent personal experiences are better able to grapple with field problems. This policy also serves to give the general staff officers an opportunity to serve with the troops. All of this is calculated to injure additional energy into the activities of the American expeditionary forces.

Attack Enemy on Rhine
More Than Mile Long
Near Avre RiverGROUND VALLEY
Success Gives Strength to His Troops Along
Somme

The French have taken the initiative on the southern battle front and delivered a telling blow southeast of Amiens.

Attacking on a front of more than a mile between Hallies and Castel, General Petain's troops yesterday evening drove the Germans from Hill 82, overlooking the Avre river, and captured the wood to the east and southeast.

This ground is probably more valuable than any other of equal area along the entire Somme line. It was at Hallies that the Germans effected their greatest westward penetration in their Amiens drive and at Hill 82 they were within less than three miles of the Paris-Amiens railway.

With this new terrain an excellent line of defense appears to have been taken up by the entente forces in this region.

The positions of the French at Hangard and those of the British on the Villers-Bretonneux ridge preserve the continuity of the line on commanding ground at virtually all the vital spots north to the Somme.

In the Villers-Bretonneux region there has been a further improvement of the entente position, the French gaining ground in local fighting last night.

The Germans are still holding on to the Flanders battle front, and German newspapers are telling the public that the high command may decide not to take Ypres after all, as its possession is not important.

The German artillery seems to have turned its attention chiefly to the southern side of the Flanders salient and last night was bombarding the region along the fifteen-mile line between Givenchy and Nieppe wood. In several thrusts at this front previously the enemy has been unable to make any substantial headway.

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS—The French made an attack late yesterday on the front between Hallies and Castel, southeast of Amiens, and captured Hill 82 and the wood on the Avre river nearby, the war office announces.

French troops have gained ground near Villers-Bretonneux, on the Amiens front.

The statement reads as follows:

"In the region south of Villers-Bretonneux there was violent artillery firing by both of the combatants as well as fairly spirited infantry engagements near the monument to the course of which the French troops gained some ground."

"South of the Avre the French last yesterday carried out a local operation which met with perfect success. Our troops attacked the German positions between Hallies and Castel (a front of about 14 miles). We took possession of Hill 82 and the wood bordering on the Avre. The number of prisoners taken exceeds 100, including four officers."

LONDON—In the neighborhood of Villers-Bretonneux, on the front before Amiens, the British gained the advantage in local fighting during the night, the war office announces.

On the northern front there was active artillery fighting, especially near Givenchy, the forest of Nieppe and Locre and south of Ypres.

The statement reads:

"Local fighting took place on advantage last night in the neighborhood of Villers-Bretonneux. We carried out successful raids south of Arras and east of St. Venant. In the course of which ten prisoners and five machine guns were captured by our troops."

"The artillery has been active on both sides during the night between Givenchy and the forest of Nieppe in the neighborhood of Locre and south of Ypres."

SUFFRAGE IS DROPPED FROM PARTY CREED

Farmers Decided Not to Incorporate These Proposals in Platform

TAXES UP AGAIN

Blaine Says One of Campaign
Cries Will be "Look at Tax Receipt"

That the farmers of the state do not intend to make suffrage and prohibition the issues in the coming campaign was indicated by the elimination of planks on these subjects by the platform adopted at Wednesday's conference. Since passage of the house of representatives at Washington, these two proposals to amend the federal constitution, have been agitated in the state and many have expressed the belief that the fall campaign would make both planks predominant.

The prohibition forces are strong in the country districts and the failure of the conference on Wednesday to incorporate the planks of this subject into the platform would indicate that the farmers intended to wage their campaign on the subject of backing up the war, on economic issues and state taxes.

"The cost of government will be one of the issues of this campaign," said J. J. Blaine of Boscobel. "We are going to ask the voters to look at their tax receipts. Four years ago men were elected to office on that issue. Taxes have gone up. We want this extravagance stopped."

The farmers intend to hold conventions in each congressional district and each legislative district. At these meetings present congressmen will be endorsed or other men placed in opposition to present incumbents. The effort will be made outside of large cities of the state to put up complete legislative tickets. J. N. Tittmore, the candidate for governor expects to open his campaign in Chippewa county about May 15.

CURIOUS CHILDREN WRECK LIMITED

Confess Stealing Switch Locks to "See What Would Happen"

(By the Associated Press)
FARGO, N. D.—Two children, whose names are not made public to officials of the Northern Pacific railroad they had stolen locks from switches and planned the wreck of the north coast limited, carrying 300 passengers, near Casselton, Tuesday, just to "see what would happen."

One of the children before the wreck occurred ran to his home and told his mother "There is going to be a wreck." She said she paid no attention to him.

The boys told special agents of the road that they watched the derailment from a vantage point under a bridge a few rods from the scene.

The North Coast limited, a Northern Pacific transcontinental train, which left Chicago Monday night was derailed Tuesday evening, four cars and the locomotive jumping the track. No one was seriously injured.

The children were sentenced today in juvenile court to the state reform school when they pleaded guilty, upon the request of their parents.

STORE MANAGEMENT COURSE OPENED

The initial class on store management at the Association of Commerce, held Thursday night, was attended by 75 merchants. G. P. Irwin, of the extension department, who has been engaged to conduct a six weeks' course, told the class that the most important thing at this time is to realize that conditions are changing almost daily, and to be prepared to meet the new things as they come.

A special class for grocers will be held every Friday night, beginning tonight, for six weeks.

BONE DRY LAW HOLDS IN DAKOTA

(By the Associated Press)
PIERRE, S. D.—State officials said that increased activity against violators of the state bone dry law probably would be the result of the decision of the South Dakota supreme court Wednesday, which held that the state law was constitutional.

The court upheld the conviction of Harry Brown, arrested at Sioux Falls, for having liquor in his possession.

JURY DISMISSED

After five hours' deliberation, the Superior court jury which heard the evidence in the case against Patrick McCormick, Belleville, charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated, was dismissed by Judge A. C. Hoppmann at 10:00 o'clock Thursday night. District Attorney Harry Southoff announced that a similar case pending against McCormick will be tried on May 14.

RURAL HEALTH TO BE BETTER

Efforts to Raise Higher Physical Standards Will Follow Draft Disclosures

Prediction is being made by health authorities that country districts, where conditions have produced 75 per cent of the physical defects that are barring men from our military service, will be the objective of a state and national crusade for a higher standard of living. The draft proved that more country boys exhibited disqualifying defects than boys raised in cities.

Lack of Inspection Blamed
A high official of the U. S. Public Health service, who is authority for the comparison, accounts for this difference by the lack of health supervision in the country schools. City schools have generally adopted health inspection, while few of the rural districts have done so. Defective eyes, teeth, ears and throats among the youth of the rural communities have been found to be due largely to conditions in the rural schools. Improper desks and seats have caused much spinal curvature, leading to other faulty conditions.

"Prompt Correction Needed
These conditions ought to be corrected at once," said the official, "and school children all over the country should be examined because defects arising at their period of life as a rule cannot be overcome later."

In addition to health inspection for school children, modern water supply and sewage disposal facilities for farm homes will go far to eliminate insanitary conditions in the country, according to the state health authorities. The tendency in this direction is already very manifest, and the next few years are expected to show a wonderful advance in the adoption of these sanitary betterments in searless homes.

FOCH'S AUTHORITY IS EXTENDED

Becomes Commander-in-Chief of All Allied Armies

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS—The military authority of General Foch, as a result of the Italian adhesion, has been extended to all the western fronts and the general now becomes commander in chief of all the allied armies in the west, says Marcel Hutin in the Echo de Paris.

M. Hutin saw Premier Clemenceau on his return from the meeting of the supreme war council at Abbeville. The premier expressed satisfaction with the results of the conference.

"And the situation at the front?" asked the writer.

"General Foch is very optimistic; that's all I can tell you," was the premier's reply.

BURNQUIST MAY RUN SECOND TIME

ST. PAUL—Governor J. A. Burnquist has said today he probably would file his petition Monday for reelection on the Republican ticket. He is expected to issue a statement at that time outlining his campaign plans.

Tuesday will be the last day that petitions from candidates for state offices can be filed.

He was head of the board of experts that produced the standardized design for Liberty trucks.

LEUTENANT WINS HONOR MEDAL

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Thursday—Lieutenant William D. Meyering, U. S. R., has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. He commanded a platoon which was attacked by the enemy on April 6. He took measures to defeat the enemy and handed his men well under fire until he was wounded seriously.

In the official announcement it is declared his brave example inspired the men to drive off the enemy who did not reach the American trenches. Lieutenant Meyering's right hand had to be amputated.

The Capital Times is made for those who pay 10 cents a week for it.

American Lieutenant Tells of Air Fight With German

(By the Associated Press)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE (Thursday)—Lieutenant James A. Meissner, whose home is in Brooklyn, and who brought down his first German airplane today on the American front northwest of Toul, returned to his hangar to receive the congratulations of his comrades and to make his report with a bashful grin on his face. The lieutenant is young and slight and "tickled to death" that he has one enemy scalp hanging to his belt.

The story of his exploit having trickled in over the telephone wire, the correspondent went to the lieutenant's hangar. It had been reported that a wing of Meissner's machine had been torn off by his opponent's airplane.

"Impossible," said one of the members of Meissner's squadron before the young aviator had returned to his camp. "If the boche really had a crashed Jimmy with his wing we would have had to call on the Red Cross to make inquiries through Switzerland as to what had happened to him."

Just at that time Lieutenant Meissner himself jumped out of an automobile and walked toward the group about the hangar.

"Well! well! there's Jimmy now," cried his companions as they all ran out to meet him. All tried to grasp his hand at the same time and shake it, while many questions were hurled at the young aviator. The lieutenant blushed and looked around as if at a loss how to begin. Then he briefly told an American story in an American way just as if bringing down a German was an every day trick.

"Well," he said, "I saw him at about 5,000 metres. There was another machine which I believe was a French one, headed in the direction of the German. I just sailed in first, but the boche swung down toward the earth when I was just above him. I went down after him, firing all the time."

Then he straightened out and, turning his wing point quickly, hammed my wing, but as that was happening I cut loose with my gun again. Smoke came from the German machine, which headed for the interior of Germany and we both were soon over his territory.

"I thought that might be some sort of camouflage for a getaway, for they tell me these Germans are full of tricks, so I kept right on his trail. Then he began to drop, real red flames streaming from him. I knew that I had him and that I had fired 200 shots but I also knew my machine was damaged. So I turned around and headed for home, but I thought I had better come down safely inside our lines than to risk a fight all the way, so I did it and there you are."

Then the lieutenant went over and told his mechanic about it. The pair stood beside another airplane, on the wing of which had been pasted as "a hoodoo chaser" a Liberty loan poster, showing Liberty waving the American flag over the heads of the American soldiers and bearing the inscription:

"Fight or Buy Liberty Bonds."

ORDNANCE MEN SEEK BATTLE

5,000 Have Applied for Foreign Service Assignments

WASHINGTON—Every one of the 5,000 officers on duty in the war department's ordnance bureau has applied for foreign service. High officers in the bureau today pointed to this fact as refuting charges that the ordnance corps had been used to furnish large numbers of staff officers with "bomb proof" jobs.

Cases have not been uncommon, it was said, where men have been reprimanded for attempting to use outside influence to get overseas service.

Brigadier General C. C. Williams, who was relieved as ordnance officer of the American expeditionary forces to become acting chief of ordnance, took charge of that office today.

PETERSON'S FILING FOR SENATOR O. K.

Candidacy Made Before He Was Convicted Under Espionage Law

ST. PAUL—Julius Schmah, secretary of state has announced that the name of James Peterson of Minneapolis as a Republican candidate for U. S. senator will be placed on the primary ballot, unless a restraining court order is issued. Peterson and J. O. Bentall, prospective socialist candidates for governor, recently were convicted of violating the espionage law.

Secretary Schmah ruled that Peterson's filing would be accepted because he made affidavit of candidacy before he was convicted. Schmah has refused to accept Bentall's filing because it was offered after he had been convicted.

CLUBS

Knit for Dane Soldiers
The Dane County Suffrage league, working with the Madison Business Woman's club, has been busy knitting since January to supply every Dane county man in the service with a sweater and socks.

The sweater which is given to these men, is an especially designed one, planned by the women on the knitting committee, and is made up from all the good points of other sweaters, with regard to comfort and simplicity plus a few original ideas as far as economy is concerned.

The knitting has been voluntary and has been done by all of the women in Madison. The money was contributed by Madison citizens.

The names of the men needing sweaters have been procured in various ways. In most cases, the relatives of the boys have applied for sweaters for them. The names of enlisted men have been procured through a kind of card system, by which each man needing a sweater, is given a card at the recruiting office, which, when presented to Mrs. G. C. Fiske, head of the knitting work, entitles him to a sweater and socks.

A detail of the fifth company of the state guard will give a demonstration of tactics as well as a detail of the Boy Scouts, who will give a first aid drill. Milford Witts will have charge of the patriotic singing. A short address will be given by T. C. Richmond. Following the program refreshments will be served and there will be music for dancing.

ADDRESSES ARE MADE PUBLIC

Complete Casualty Lists Given Out by War Department

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—Publication of American casualties in France were resumed today in the old form with the names on the lists given out by the war department carrying the home addresses of the men.

The president decided that the addresses should be made public and the return to the old form is taken to mean that any military advantage the enemy might gain from the lists would not be of sufficient value to justify the anxiety occasioned the relatives of soldiers by suppression of this aid to identification.

ASK MADISONS TO RAISE SHEEP

Wool Growers' Association Makes Appeal to Mayor Sayle

Madison has been asked to enter into the sheep raising business. Members of the Wool Growers' association have called on Mayor Sayle and suggested that city parks be used this year as pastures. The chief object in view is to make mutton as plentiful as possible so as to release the beef products for the men in France. By entering upon this business, a move that is much favored by the mayor, Madison could assist in bringing about an increased production of both meat and wool.

MARINETTE—Claud Boyd, 15, has been arrested on the charge of stealing $30 in cash and a check for $60.80 from a small store near the high school, owned by Mrs. Beziallon who preferred the charges. The trial will be held in the county court here.

HEADS COMMITTEE TO AID PALESTINE

Dr. Fuad Shatara.

The first native Palestinian to be called to return to the Holy Land for the purpose of relieving the distress of the unhappy people of that country which has for years been under the heel of the Turk, is Dr. Fuad Shatara, who until recently was a very prominent surgeon of New Jersey. Dr. Shatara will head a relief party of doctors and nurses which is scheduled to leave for Palestine shortly.

REVOLUTION IS SEETHING IN AUSTRIA

Correspondent Predicts it Will Break When Western Offensive Ceases

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, via Ottawa—The best indication of the enemy in northern Flanders, in the view of London newspapers, is the evident influence of a renewal of a peace offensive. The German papers emphasize the report that the pope is about to issue a new peace note, while the German peace agents are busy in new countries. Articles in the Scandinavian press suggest that Italy may be the main objective of the enemy attempts to divide the allies.

Meanwhile the troubles of the Austrian empire are apparently coming to a head. The cabinet crises in Austria and Hungary are still unsettled. The arrival of Czechoslovak troops on the Italian front, under the Italian flag, has disquieted the Austro-Hungarian leaders, who fear the effect on their Slav troops. Recently some of these men persuaded a number of Austrian Czechs to desert.

An English correspondent on the Swiss frontier has received information that the populations of Austria and Hungary are starving and seething with revolt, which, he predicts, will break out when the western offensive has been brought to a standstill.

Buying Shoes On Faith:

The purchase of shoes these days (for both Men and Women) is a good deal like buying diamonds.

ABOUT THE BEST one can do is to rely upon one's FAITH IN THE SELLER. (The consumer cannot judge values as accurately as in the past; one cannot well afford to trust to "looks" alone.)

GRANTED that leather values must now be determined by faith first—and by one's own experience finally—the only question is "Where to place one's faith." Your decision on this one vital and primary point will completely determine your satisfaction with your appearance for a whole season—and your satisfaction with your business judgment for even longer.

One always "feels good" when it turns out that one has "guessed right"—and "good judgment" is nothing at all but guessing right the first time.

You have a chance to do just that—in SHOES—right NOW.

DISSIPATING SOME YELLOW

ATTORNEY GENERAL GREGORY has taken a little more of the yellow out of the yellows.
In a letter to Congressman Gilbert A. Currie of Michigan the attorney general says that most of the fires alleged to have been started by enemy aliens are nothing more than the fiction of the newspapers. It is all part of the game of the newspapers to work on the hysteria of people. The letter of Attorney General Gregory in part follows:
"The public assumes that there is a great deal of enemy activity going on in this country, and it is but natural that vague rumors are magnified into definite and sensational stories. The talk of damage done by enemy aliens in causing incendiary fires is an illustration of this. Repeatedly, both in reputable newspapers and in publications gotten out by citizen societies, exaggerated statements are made as to the amount of damage. Statistics show that, considering the vastly increased value of merchandise and plants, the actual fire loss to property of all descriptions in 1917 was not appreciably larger than that of the year of 1913. Likewise, the report recently made by the National Board of Fire Underwriters shows in substance that during the last year not one fire has been clearly proven to be the work of alien enemies, and a recent conference in the Treasury Department of all the men in all departments charged with protection of plants and supplies, it was stated without dissent that no instance was known of a fire caused within the last year by alien enemies.
"This does not mean that there is little danger to be apprehended from enemy alien activities. On the contrary, the most careful watchfulness is constantly necessary; but I cite this illustration to you to show you how unfounded are some of the extraordinary stories now in circulation."

GOOD FOR THE CIGARMAKERS

WE heard something this morning that pleased us a great deal.
There are those in this city who, for purely selfish reasons, have been trying to discredit organized labor. They have tried to do it by impugning the loyalty and patriotism of labor. They have been doing it not because they care a rap whether labor is

THE RAILROADS

Every primary wrong that has grown up to plague the American people, has been started, nurtured and has grown out of the great private Railroad monopoly.
The private car monopoly; the standard oil monopoly; the chief curse of the nation, Morgan & Co. and their cohorts; the steel trust; the coal trust; the stock yards trust; the packers trust; the express trust; the telegraph trust; all of these financial tyrannies have sprung out of our great public highway systems.
Unless we own the railroads and operate them for the peoples' benefit then the railroads will OWN us and will continue to rob and exploit the public. Let us refuse to vote for any candidate for state office or for federal office who does not state squarely and openly that he is for Government ownership of railroads and for their reorganization on a fair and equitable basis. This statement or one similar in sentiment will appear in every issue of the "News" until after the September primaries.
J. N. TITTEMORE,
President Wisconsin State Union

patriotic or not, but because it affords them a weapon to fight labor.
But labor isn't carrying its patriotism on its coat sleeve. Its patriotism isn't of the brass band kind. And so it is that we haven't heard a thing about the fact that EVERY SINGLE MEMBER OF THE CIGARMAKERS' UNION IN THIS CITY IS THE OWNER OF A LIBERTY BOND. We learned of this indirectly—the cigarmakers are not asking for any advertising out of it.
Good for the cigarmakers. How many organizations carrying as large a membership as the cigarmakers can make a similar boast? How many organizations have done as much and done as little shouting about it?

THE ORPHANT CAT

Us found a cat nobody owns, a little teenty cat,
An' no one that was where it was, knows where its ma was at,
An' it's an orphant cat, an' it ain't opened up its eyes,
An' all day when us is at school it cries an' cries, an' cries,
An' when us comes home us loves it up to make it stop,
An' feeds it warm milk with a rag, Us feeds it drop by drop,
An' it takes lots of drops to feed an orphant cat, it does;
Sometimes us almost wishes us knew where its mamma was.
Because it hollers like it does it hollers all day long,
Our dad says us should teach it tunes an' then 't would be a song;
But if us taught it tunes an' it would sing all day like that, Then it would be a mockin' bird or some'n, not a cat;
An' its thesh hungry when it sings, and when us comes from play An' gets it out from its soft nest where us put it away,
An' dips a rag in some warm milk an' gives it it to chew
It is a good old little cat; us hopes its eyes are blue.
It sprawls around and keeps both of its eyes shut, just as tight
As if it was as fast asleep as it could be at night;
An' when it opens up its eyes an' looks where us is at
It will be s'prised, because it thinks us is the mother cat;
An orphant cat or orphant child's a awful solum' thing,
And 't would be nice if us could teach this cat the way to sing;
But us will feed it lots of milk, an' meat, an' things like that,
And usses will be good to it 'cause it's an orphant cat.
—Judd Mortimer Lewis in the Houston Post.

THE VOICE OF THE RICE

The Spirit of the Santee is crooning to the moon,
The ripened rice fields beckon to the silvery sandy dune;
All the ripples of the river, Of the marsh-lined, sparkling river,
Are awake and in a quiver, As on every breeze you hear Of the promise of the year—
Mother Earth from out the river Is a generous, loving giver;
And the yellow grain grows white, And the harvest moon grows bright,
And Love and Life are once again in tune,
For the Spirit of the Santee is crooning to the moon.
—John Philip Sousa in Life.

DINNER STORIES

Farmer Turnipson had brought his young son David to the city to see the sights, and toward the end of a long day was dragging his 250 pounds up the steps of the great monument. Long before they reached the top the father was regretting that he had allowed his son to persuade him to undertake such a tiring journey.
"Look, father!" exclaimed the boy when they had at last reached the top. "Isn't it a grand sight down there?"
"Well," puffed the elder Turnipson "if it's so grand down there, what in the name of all that's wonderful did you bring me up here for?"
He was a mine-sweeper and home on leave, was feeling a bit groggy. He called to see a doctor, who examined him thoroughly.
"You're troubled with your throat, you say?" said the doctor.
"Aye, aye, sir," answered the sailor.
"Have you ever tried gargling it with salt and water?" asked the doctor.
The mine-sweeper groaned.
"I should say so!" he said. "I've been tormented seven times!"
The town council of a small Scotch community met to inspect a site for a new hall. They assembled at a chapel and, as it was a warm day, a member suggested that they should leave their coats there.
"Someone can stay behind and watch them," suggested another.
"What for?" demanded a third.
"If we are all going out together what need is there for anyone to watch the clothes?"
Some time ago a young man called on the father of a beautiful girl and told him in a faltering voice that the greatest desire of his life was to become his son-in-law.
"Ahem!" responded the fond father, turning a scowling expression on the matrimonial candidate. "So you want to marry my daughter, do you?"
"Yes sir," faltered the young man, "that is if you have no objections."
"Just wait a minute," returned the practical parent. "How are your finances? Are you in a position to support a family?"
"I don't know sir," answered the youth, thoughtfully. "How many are there of you?"
The elder Swift, founder of one of the great Chicago beef concerns, hated to see women working in bright clothes, according to a man who once labored for the Swift concern. There happened to be a stenographer at the works, however, who bought all the loud raiment she could and looked like a combination of a merry-go-round and a rainbow when she walked through the yards.
One day the elder Swift caught sight of her. He called to his assistant.
"Who is that?" he asked.
"Why that's Mr. Blank's stenographer."
"How much does she get?"
"Twenty-five a week."
"Dock her."
"I'm afraid she'll leave."
Swift shot a glance at his assistant before he answered.
"If she doesn't," he said, "dock her again."
"What are you drawing your excellency?" asked the tutor.
"This is a picture of God."
"But that is verboten; nobody

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

The other day we tried to rent a house in quite a respectable neighborhood. When we came to answering the questions it reminded us of the time Josh Billings wanted to get the life insurance. Josh said:
"I called on the agent of the Garden Angel Insurance Company and answered the following questions:
"Are you married or single?
"If so, state how long you have been so.
"Had you a father or mother?
"If so, which?
"Are you subject to fits?
"Do you have more than one at a time?
"Did you ever have any ancestors?
"If so, how much?
"Are you married or single or a bachelor?
"Have you ever committed suicide?
"If so, how often?"
We have heard of girls with appetites before, but how about Muriel Ostrich, the film star?
The recruit in his new uniform was seated at the cafe table with the idol of his dreams, a sweet young thing whom he had pursued for years. He made no attempt to hide his love for her, and after he had applied his attentions ceaselessly all the evening, she said:
"My dear, if you are as true to Uncle Sam as you have been to me, this is going to be one hell of a war."
knows what God looks like."
"They will when I get done."

SEA FEVER

I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by;
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking,
And a gray mist on the sea's face, and a gray dawn breaking.
I must go down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume and the seagulls crying.
I must go down to the seas again, to the vagrant gypsy life,
To the gull's way and the whale's way where the wind's like a whetted knife;
And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow rover,
And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.
—John Masefield.
LINES BY A HORSE ON A BITTER COLD DAY.
Beside me on the curb you're rolled, And warm fur robes around you cast.
While I, uncovered, shake with cold in blinding snow and chilling blast; But I should be resigned, of course; You are a fiver—I'm a horse.
And it is right that robes of fur Be wrapped around your fragile form.
For injury you might incur If left uncovered to the storm—

SOCIETY

Snow White Came to Life.
"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," the juvenile operetta which was given by St. Catherine's guild of Grace Episcopal church in Guild hall Thursday evening, more than succeeded in carrying the audience back into the fascinating realms of the old fairy story by that name.

Miss Dorothy L'Hommiedieu proved herself a lovable little Princess Snow White, and William L. Miller was a truly regal prince. Miss Isabel Winterbotham well interpreted the part of the haughty queen while Roy Drives, in the part of Carl, the huntsman, proved himself a worthy protector of the little princess.

Aside from the seven little dwarfs and the chorus of forest children the cast included the following: Arbuthnot, Miss Luella Holt; Daffodil, Miss Eleanor Morgan; Violet, Miss Jean Morgan; Max, Lauriston Sharp; Hans, Ralph Kamm. Miss Marian Spring acted as accompanist and Miss Eleanor Sheldon stage manager. The entire affair was given under the direction of Miss Marie L'Hommiedieu, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. The proceeds, amounting to about $100, will be turned over to the Red Cross.

The freshmen will demonstrate the truth of the song, "There's a little bit of bad in every good little girl" in a stunt which is being planned by Miss Julia Hanks.

All who attend the party are asked to masquerade although it is not necessary. Evelyn Brown is expected to be present. The stunts will last from 8-9 o'clock after which there will be a grand march followed by dancing to the music of Thompson's orchestra. Prizes will be awarded to the six best costumes.

Menorah Society Brings Singer.

Miss Elizabeth Gutman, well-known Baltimore soprano, will give a recital in Madison, on Friday evening, May 10, in Lathrop hall. Miss Gutman is called the "singer of quaint folk songs," and her programs consist of Jewish and Russian interpretations, as well as songs of England, France, Germany, Italy and Sweden.

She is the chief exponent in this country of the Jewish folk-songs, a rich mine of entertainment and instruction.

Miss Gutman comes to Madison as the guest of the Menorah society of the University of Wisconsin. Her tour has been arranged by the Inter-collegiate Menorah association, and covers seven universities. Many of the songs included in Miss Gutman's repertoire have been drawn from original sources, and cannot be procured on this side of the Atlantic. She possesses not only a beautiful voice but the convincing qualities of a genuine artist in the presentation of her unusual program.

The concert will be open to the public. Milton Moses is president of the local Menorah society, and is being assisted in the arrangements by Max L. Eilman; Prof. Arnold Dresden, Mrs. Joseph Jastrow, Ethel Levitan, and James Greenberg.

GARDENS IN EAST END FLOURISH

Residents of Section do Bit in Aiding Army Food Supply

Residents of the East End will not be behind other sections of Madison in growing war gardens this year. With the coming of warm weather nearly every back yard in the community is the scene of great activity. Many of the "crops" are already in and growing, and indications point to some bumper productions. To take the place of the food which will be sent to the fighting Allies.

Men who work in the shops, after making supplies for Uncle Sam during the day, turn to the spade, the rake and hoe and do their "bit" in their gardens.

Not only will the gardens be productive but they will be attractive. Many citizens have taken particular care in arranging them so that they will improve the appearance of their lots.

Many of the industrial plants of the neighborhood, along with the street car company have provided vacant ground for their employees and have added them in planting potatoes and other vegetables.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO THE ORGANIZED WORKERS

COST OF LIVING DOUBLED DURING LAST 18 YEARS

Average Cost of $769 Per Family in 1900 is Now Over $1401

The United States Bureau of labor statistics reports that a wage of $1,500 a year will only provide "the minimum standard of comfort."

In other words, this governmental agency declares that if a worker does not receive $5 a day for 300 working days in the year he cannot support a family in the most restricted kind of comfort.

In 24 principal American cities the lowest annual wage should be $1,650.

WASHINGTON—The cost of maintaining a family in this country has doubled since 1900, according to the United States bureau of labor statistics. Figures just made public show that the average cost in 1900 was $769. During 1912 the cost of the same commodities was $1,401. Food alone in 1912 cost only $53 less than all items combined in 1900. $27 represented the expenditure for food of the average working man's family in 1900. By 1912 this had risen to $430 and in 1912 it cost $716. Rent had advanced 69 per cent. Clothing doubled—rising from $106 to $210. Fuel and lighting show a similar advance, rising from $40 to $82. Most of the advance in these items occurred between 1914 and 1917. The 1917 figures, the bureau says, are already outdated because of subsequent advances. The minimum standard of comfort today requires a wage of approximately $2,000 per year. The average of 24 American cities is that the minimum standard necessary for a reasonable standard of health and comfort in these 24 American cities is $1,650, of which $600 is spent for food. Investigation by the department of health in New York city fixed the figure for that city at $1,682.

The above figures do not include increases in the cost of such things as amusements, charity, insurance, taxes, books, newspapers, or expenses incident to sickness and death.

FATAL ACCIDENTS ARE ON INCREASE

OLYMPIA, Wash.—Inexperienced men in hazardous industries is resulting in an increase in accidents in this state according to the state industrial insurance commission. Forty deaths and 2,200 non-fatal accidents is the total during the month of March. This is by far the largest number of accidents that have been reported in any one month during the operation of the Washington workmen's compensation act.

The highest previous record was made in the month of November, 1910, when there was a grand total of 2,120 accidents.

In February of this year there were 2,035 accidents, of which 35 were fatal. In January there were 2,006 accidents of which forty were fatal.

The majority of the fatal accidents come from the lumbering industry but now the shipyards are running a close second. Of the fatal accidents in March, nine were ship accidents.

CANADIAN UNIONS GROW

OTTAWA, Ontario—The war has not affected the growth of trade unionism, according to statistics of the Dominion of Canada department of labor. The total membership of Dominion trade unions at the close of 1912 was 204,360, or an increase of 4,223 over the previous year. Local unions increased 132 or a total of 19,741.

MINERS SAY COAL FAMINE POSSIBLE

Claim Obstacles Raised by Operators Hamper Production

INDIANAPOLIS—Officers of the United Mine Workers have warned the federal fuel administration that numerous obstacles are hampering the production of coal at a time when every natural condition is favorable to maximum production.

The unionists say that these obstacles must be removed if a coal famine next winter is to be averted.

"Coal production is far below the nations lowest possible estimated requirements. Mines in the states of Iowa, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and West Virginia are working less than half time, and in many mining towns large producing mines are actually shut down. Several hundred local unions affiliated with the United Mine Workers of America, suffering protracted idleness have been forced to ask exonerations from the payment of dues. (This is stated solely to reflect the actual condition.)"

"Like the deplorable conditions existing in September and October, 1917, thousands of coal miners are suffering for the necessities of life; not because they are not willing and desirous of working but because the opportunity is not afforded."

PLENTY OF LABOR SAYS BUREAU HEAD

WASHINGTON—"People who insist that there is a labor shortage do not know what they are talking about," is the blunt announcement of the United States employment service, in a statement issued by Director General Censmore.

"At this time of reports of a great shortage of shipyard labor," he said, "it is important for the country to know that these reports do not emanate from the shipyards themselves but from those who have no knowledge of the war situation. With the exception of the original shipbuilding trades, such as ship carpenters, shipbuilders and caulkers, the yards are receiving all the men they need, and the United States employment service, through its 200 branch offices in the industrial districts and the registrants in the public service reserve, is able to fill all present and future requirements."

STRIKEBREAKERS STRIKE. GID, La.—Strikebreakers imported to the oil fields of this district when unionists attempted to increase wages are now on strike. They have discovered that pats on the back and songs about "free and independent workmen" can not cope with old H. C. of L.

BOSS HATTERS WANTS WEALTH GET THE BLAME ALSO DRAFTED

Government Investigation Says They Are Responsible for Trouble

DANBURY, Conn.—The United States government has failed to adjust a long dispute in the hatters' industry because employers demand the non-union shop, which they insist on referring to as "open shop."

The United States department of labor assigned Elmer J. Greenwalt to act as a conciliator.

After a week's effort, Mr. Greenwalt, who is immigration commissioner for the port of Philadelphia, made this public statement:

"I spent several days in Danbury making diligent inquiry as to the merits of the case, and found that while the hatters were not wholly blameless, a careful analysis shows that the burden of responsibility rests upon the shoulders of the manufacturers, who, in my judgment, precipitated without sufficient reason an industrial trouble that has brought incalculable harm to the business interests of the community."

"I found the hatters manifesting a candid spirit of open mindedness and entirely willing to meet and confer with the manufacturers. On the other hand, I found the employers quite willing to relate circumstances that prompted them to the decision to break away from the union shop, but they steadily declined to look with favor upon any proposition to meet in conference with either the national or local representatives of the hatters, in connection with myself or otherwise, for the purpose of conciliating their differences."

"I endeavored to show them that the position they took at the conference was an untenable one, if there was to be any hope of a settlement; but to no avail."

LOW WAGES BRING POVERTY IN EAST

Charitable Societies Cannot Meet Demands in New Jersey

NEWARK, N. J.—The various charitable societies of this state are overburdened by demands made on them for the care of families whose bread winners, through sickness, are unable to support them. These workers are paid such a low wage that it is impossible to provide for the proverbial "rainy day" or maintain a depreciation fund, a term used by capitalists for money set aside to replace worn out equipment.

The above conditions were revealed by Robert L. Flemming, in his address as president at the opening session of the state conference of charities and correction.

Mr. Flemming made no reference to "any day" or depreciation funds; these are left to inference. But the "social workers" did insist that "we must protect our army of working men and women and the coming generation against the ravages and waste of illness."

His panacea is health insurance. "We have been shocked," he stated, "by the high percentage of draft rejections on account of physical disability. As never before we need now to conserve, for present and future generations, the health and physical vigor of our people."

GARMENT STRIKE ENDS AT ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Striking garment workers have returned to work following an agreement secured with the aid of federal mediators. Nearly 4,000 employees, over one-half of whom are women, have accepted the following:

"We, the striking employees of the various garment manufacturers, do hereby agree to return to work and submit all our grievances to the national labor board, provided the manufacturers will agree to reinstate all employees on or before April 26, without discrimination or prejudice, at the same wage scale and announced increases and at the same working hours as existed at the time of the strike."

The employees will now present their original demands to the mediators whose decision shall not be final. If the employers accepted this common sense plan before the strike, several weeks of idleness and much ill will would have been avoided.

WORK WEEK REDUCED.

BOSTON—Bottle Sorters' and Washers' union No. 15293 has secured a one-year agreement with the Bottle Dealers' association. Wages are increased $2 to $3 a week; the work week reduced four hours during June, July, August and September; time and one-half for overtime instead of time and one-quarter as previously paid; three holidays in the year with pay, instead of two; and an arbitration clause for adjustment of grievances.

JOIN UNION; GET 8 HOURS.

FRESNO, Cal.—The new union of blacksmiths has reduced the work day from nine to eight hours. The change came so easily that these workers are now wondering why they didn't take collective action long ago.

Morrison Says Dollars Should be Conscribed as Well as Labor

WASHINGTON—In a speech before a national organization of platform lecturers, A. F. of L. Secretary Frank Morrison took the argument of labor conscriptionists and applied it to themselves. He declared that if it was necessary for the nation to live, organized workers will accept the government's dictum that everything shall be thrown into the common lot with every citizen placed on soldier's rations.

"The trade union movement opposes the conscription of labor unless the conscription of wealth is likewise conscripted," he said.

"The claim that labor should be conscripted on the same theory that the country drafts its citizens for military purposes is not a correct comparison. The government conscripts its citizens for service, the employer would conscript for exploitation."

"Courts have repeatedly drawn a sharp line between civilian and military life, and while in theory no one can deny the government's right to draft any citizen for any purpose it sees fit when the nation's life is in jeopardy, the dollar should at least be forced to surrender its per cent rights, just as labor would be called upon to surrender its right of freedom."

"Labor notifies the elements that urge conscription of labor that it will go farther than they will and that it will be the first to accept the government's dictum—if that time ever comes—that every ounce of manpower and every dollar and other evidence of wealth must be thrown in the common lot with every citizen on soldier's rations that the nation may live."

"We notify these employers and their spokesmen in the United States senate that they can not use the war to establish principles of peonage that they long for when the days of peace return, while they insist on interest on the establishment of depreciation funds so that when the war ends it will be found that they have not only maintained well-rounded profits during this period of stress but that the people have paid for the equipment to make these profits."

WAR LABOR BOARD MAPS OUT PLANS

WASHINGTON—The national war labor board, consisting of five representative trade unionists, five employers and ex-President Taft and Frank P. Walsh, representing the public, held its first meeting this week and mapped out a plan of organization. Messrs. Taft and Walsh will act as chairman alternate meetings.

No dispute will be heard where the parties have not first submitted their case to mediation and arbitration already provided by the government.

The war labor board consists of the same persons who formulated the national war labor program. The trade unionists are International President Hayes, of the miners; Hutcherson of the carpenters, Johnston of the machinists, Rickett of the garment workers, and Victor Olander, second vice president of the seamen. President Johnston is now in England as a member of the "American Federation of Labor Mission," and his place on the labor board is temporarily filled by Thomas J. Savage, general board member of the International Association of Machinists.

SHIPYARDS WAGES TO BE STABILIZED

WASHINGTON—The department of labor and the United States shipping board are attempting to work out a system whereby wages will be regulated to compensate for the increased cost of living.

This plan is accepted by some British manufacturers, especially in the textile industries. In Lancaster and other cities in England an agreement has been effected by employers and the workers whereby wages are made to fluctuate in accordance with figures on the cost of living prepared by the British board of trade.

About 60,000 workers are included in these agreements, which cover all classes of textile workers except mechanics and those engaged in the maintenance of the plants.

UNION SUSPENDS RULE.

SEATTLE—The Plasterers' and Cement Finishers' union has suspended a rule that all time over one shift must be paid for at the rate of overtime. This rule has been in operation for over 20 years and allowed for a single shift and a five-day week to reduce unemployment in this seasonal trade.

The union suspended the rule so that the government would not be handicapped in its construction of concrete ships.

SECURE EIGHT HOURS.

VANCOUVER, British Columbia—A strike by oil refinery workers at the plant of the Imperial Oil company, has resulted in the company making the eight-hour work day general throughout Canada. This concern is a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company. Wages have also been increased.

War Department Delays Passing on Industrial Service Plan

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The war department, Acting Secretary Crowell advised the senate military, is not prepared to pass on the question of universal liability to industrial service. Other government departments, he said, in a letter referring to a bill by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, to draft all male citizens of military age for industrial purposes, are more concerned in the labor problem.

Workers at Escanaba Disagree With Roads Over Pay

ESCANABA—Several hundred railroad men, dock workers and a number of miners are idle here as a result of the disagreement between officials of the Northwestern and St. Paul railroads and the dock workers over the question of wages. With practically no iron ore loaded at the docks here, the situation is considered serious.

NEWSPAPER RATES MAY BE REDUCED

Senate Committee Favors Modification of New Postage

WASHINGTON—Action favorable to reducing the increased second class newspaper postage rates effective July 1, was believed to be forecast in consideration of the question today by the senate post-office committee. A motion of senator Watson of Indiana, to suspend the increases was lost only by a tie vote and sentiment was said to be strong for modification, at least, of the newspaper rates. Final action was deferred until tomorrow.

STONE CUTTERS GAIN.

ATLANTA, Ga.—Organized stone cutters have increased wages from 50 to 62½ cents an hour.

GREEN BAY—Dealers of sugar in Brown county are restricted from delivering sugar to manufacturers of less essential food products who have engaged in business since Jan. 1 under an order issued by the federal food administrator for the county.

The ruling is intended to prevent waste of sugar and is promulgated by the federal and state food administrators. It is claimed conservation practiced by the old manufacturers cannot be valuable if the sugar they save is acquired by new manufacturers.

BEAUTIFUL PARISIAN ACTRESS IS HELD AS A SPY IN FRANCE

Mlle. Sumey Depay.

The recent arrest in Paris of Sumey Depay, an actress who appeared with Sarah Bernhardt, has created a sensation. Her husband, Emile Guillard, who is also under arrest, had been employed by a manufacturer of artificial limbs and had access to all military and Red Cross hospitals. Sumey Depay's frequent visits to Switzerland caused the French secret service to be suspicious and led to her arrest on a charge of giving information to the enemy.

OLDERS' BENEFIT DANCE

Are you sick and tired of trying to find a place to dance where you are in doubt as to which of the landish "modern" steps you will have to do "apologetically" called "dancing." No two dancing masters teaching them alike, or worse still, perhaps some of the new steps originated, say, yesterday afternoon, will be popular that night—some of certain steps present and with all your struggles to keep abreast of the rapidly changing dancing scene, you find yourself in a disappointing predicament.

Now if you love real dancing, if you love beautiful music, or perhaps if you have stopped dancing entirely because of this condition, why not come where only standard dancing—waltz and two-step and others are permitted. And where, South Madison, Saturday, May 4th.

LOCAL ATHLETES AT VARSITY SCORE

Madison High Grads Ahead of Milwaukee Men in Track Meet

Tom Jones, varsity track coach, is getting some real competition at Camp Randall this week. He has divided the University of Wisconsin track team into two camps, one of graduates of the Madison high school, and the other of members of the team from the Milwaukee schools. The track men from other cities have been sitting on the sidelines and watching one of the most interesting meets that has ever been staged at Camp Randall. The local athletes are in the lead. In all but four events, which are yet to be run off, the Madison high graduates led the Milwaukeeans by a score of 53 to 35.

The winners of the events held in the meet to date are as follows: 100 yard dash—Urech, Mil., first; Heintzen, Mil., second; Maisel, Mad., third. Time—10 3-5 seconds. High jump—Gill, Mad., first; Williams, Mil., second; Herzfeld, Mil., third. Height—5 feet 10 inches. Shot put—Gallum, Mil., first; Herzfeld, Mil., second; Hanson, Mad., third. Distance—37 feet, 8 inches. Mile run—Crump, Mad., first; Elsom, Mad., second; no third. Time—4:50. 120 yard high hurdle—Heintzen, Mil., first; Urech, Mil., second; Hall, Mad., third. Distance—19 feet 7 1-2 inches. Two mile run—Crump, Mad., first; Elsom, Mad., second; no third. Time—10:32.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—The promoters announce that everything is set for the Miske-Dempsey bout Friday night at the St. Paul Auditorium. Both battlers have finished training and will take it easy, doing merely enough recreational stuff to keep fit. The showing of Dempsey in the gymnasium has installed him as a favorite with the fans. They have doped Miske as perhaps the better boxer but Dempsey a harder hitter and by no means a slow flat fling r. Dempsey is carrying the money partisanship.

At the recent athletic carnival at the University of Pennsylvania, William F. Bartels of Jersey City, a freshman at Pennsylvania, stepped into athletic fame by winning the pentathlon. Sholtz of the University of Missouri, who ran 100 yards against the wind in ten seconds; Meyers of Dartmouth, who won the pole vault with a record of twelve feet, and Rice of Kansas, who won the high jump with a record a quarter of an inch below six feet.

SPORT EVENTS OF THE DAY

Jack Britton and Ted Lewis fought a ten round draw at Scranton, Pa.

Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion, has been discharged from the army at Camp Lewis, Wash., on account of defective hearing. It is understood he will be retained as boxing instructor at the camp.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia National league teams will play a championship game next Sunday at the old Federal league grounds at Harrison, N. J., as the beginning of an experiment to introduce Sunday baseball in the east.

Harold Carlson, Pittsburgh National league pitcher, left for Rockford, Ill., to report for immediate service in the national army.

Albert Mamaux, Brooklyn National league pitcher, left the team with the announced intention of seeking work in a munitions factory. Mamaux had been placed in Class A by his draft board.

John Pesek, of Shelton, Neb., was awarded both falls in a wrestling match with Yussiff Hussane, Bulgarian, at Lincoln, Neb., because Hussane would not break when ordered to by the referee.

MEILLER IS ILL
Walter Meiller, ex-minor leaguer, and professional walker, residing at 216 North Blair street, is confined with a bad attack of grippe. Walter is remembered as the chap who used to cavort around the key-

ROUNDY'S CORNER

When Simpson leaves the university this June they will have to close up the athletic department. Also they will have nobody left to break up socialist meetings at Turner hall.

Sisler, the St. Louis American league star, defeated Detroit single handed yesterday, knocking a home run over Cobb's head and winning the game. As the ball sailed over Cobb's head he started for the clubhouse saying: "There's one ball they won't have to parcel post to the Sammys."

From the way the Giants are hitting that old round apple some of the young New National outfielders wish they would get their call to the national army soon.

Wisconsin tackles Purdue tomorrow and they just defeated Illinois in thirteen innings. Prof. McElroy's speech could not cause half as much trouble as that schedule.

After watching Jimmy Brahaney eat his lunch at Cop's Hoover should send him a special order to cut down. If Jimmy keeps eating those big lunches they sure will have to issue new orders on food.

Madison will have to shoot the shoots this summer and other amusement stunts. After riding on a Johnson car you can get all that stuff you want right now.

They are going to let sheep graze on Monona Park this summer. They should leave a little room for "Jimmie Conlin's" dray team over there from the looks of them.

Jim Beyer is cutting the grass in Brittingham park this year. If he cuts it like he used to cut hair at the barber trade, one cut will hold it for a while. Ash Gus Meyers.

Tom McGowan, manager of Ray Harrington and Joe Smith, have left for the Dempsey-Miske fight. If Dempsey loses the fight both would probably have to walk home. They are both down heavy for him. McGowan is going to try and match Harrington with some lightweight in St. Paul on the trip. Maybe Jess is getting trained down to Harrington's weight.

John McGraw flew in an airplane from Waco, Tex., to Marlin the other day. But it probably wasn't the first time the Giant's leader was up in the air.

Varsity to Play Milton College a Return Game at Milton Friday Afternoon

They're off. The reorganized, rejuvenated, reconstituted and much-abused Badger baseball team has left for its first big test of the season—a game with Purdue at La Fayette Saturday afternoon which will be the first encounter of the conference season, and one of the five games that the Badgers will play with Big Ten teams this year.

Coach Lowman and his varsity nine left Friday noon. He took his full team, with plenty of pitchers and fielders, for Purdue's victory over Illinois Wednesday gave him anything but hope for the battle on the morrow. Friday afternoon the team will stop off at Milton to re-engage the Milton collegians in the game that was stopped at Camp Randall some weeks ago due to the rain.

In the first game between Wisconsin and Milton the Badgers had a very easy time of it, and Coach Lowman is not figuring on having much trouble at Milton Friday afternoon. Saturday, however, prospects are somewhat different, and Lowman has changed the lineup of his team considerably in an effort to give it the necessary playing ability to stand up against the other conference teams. The Purdue game will be a real test of Wisconsin this year. Everyone seems to think the Badgers have a rotten team, and all they have to do is to prove it. Guy Lowman did the impossible in basketball, however, and those who have been watching him in an effort to develop almost impossible material in Big Ten baseball stars at Camp Randall believe that he will turn the trick in the diamond game, and that Wisconsin will make a good record in her Big Ten games this year.

The chief change in the Badger team has been the shifting of Captain Simpson from catcher to the pitching box, and if he is in good form Saturday he may be relied upon to stop the Boilemaker aggregation. The use of the versatile captain as pitcher instead of at his old job at catching will put Schiller behind the bat in his place. McGarty, who was out for the first time Wednesday, will be a second man for the catcher's position.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—When the American Association season opens here on May 8, members of the Louisville club will take the field wearing solid white uniforms. The uniforms will not bear any letters or mark of distinction. The idea is that the faces of the Louisville players are so familiar throughout the circuit that nothing is needed to identify them.

HEARING MAY 7

Butter, Eggs and Tobacco Affected by New Application

One of the most important hearings to the farming communities of the state will be scheduled for three days next week, when the railroads will ask for the abolition of all of the concentration rates. This would mean an increase varying from 25 to 40 per cent, according to different communities.

At the farmers' convention this week a telegram was sent to Secretary McAdoo asking him to send a representative of the interstate commerce commission here to protest against the proposal which all of the railroads of the state have joined into.

The application relating to butter and egg rates will be held on May 7; cheese, May 8; tobacco, May 9 and pulpwood and steel, May 10.

From railroad circles it is known that this is considered one of the most important freight rate cases to come before the commission in years. Consumers and farmers will probably send delegations here to protest.

SONG GIVEN PRAISE FOR PATRIOTISM

Gov. Philipp Sends Letter of Appreciation to Green Bay Woman

Governor Philipp, in a letter to Mrs. Josephine G. Martin of Green Bay, composer of the patriotic song, "You'll be glad that you're the dad of such a lad," praises the composition and the spirit which prompted its writing.

The letter was sent to Mrs. Martin in acknowledgement of a copy of the song which she sent to the governor. It read as follows:

April 24, 1918.

Mrs. Josephine Gaffney Martin, 945 South Monroe Avenue, Green Bay, Wisconsin.

My dear Mrs. Martin:—

I am pleased to acknowledge receipt of your letter and copy of the song which you have so kindly dedicated to the fathers of our American boys who are now serving our country.

Although a lover of music I am not a trained musician and am therefore not competent to pass judgment upon the musical feature of your composition. However I can fully appreciate the inspiration in your lines and the consolation that they carry to the heart of the lonely father whose son has exposed himself to the deadly fire of our country's enemy.

I think that part of your line, "You'll be glad that you're the dad of such a lad" is particularly inspiring and will make your song popular with the masses.

I thank you for having favored me with a copy of your composition and I wish you every success with it.

Very truly yours,
E. L. PHILIPP.

HELPS MARKET PRESENT CROP OF POTATOES

Council of Defense Sends Agent to Investigate Shipping Conditions

The State Council of Defense has taken up in earnest the problem of marketing the surplus of the 1917 crop of potatoes.

For several weeks the council has been urging the consumption of potatoes as one way to save wheat and help win the war. Reports have been received from industrial centers that potatoes were scarce. For instance it was said that the city of Milwaukee could use four carloads a day, but was unable to get them. From the potato growing section it was reported that producers were holding their crop for a higher price and the claim also was made that there was a shortage of cars.

P. C. Eldredge of Milwaukee, a member, produced records to show that there was no car shortage. Mr. Eldredge said that cars now were being used for cordwood which could be assigned to the potato centers. To get the facts the Council has sent its marketing agent to potato shipping centers. His work will be to aid the producer in finding a market and to keep the supply needed in the cities in transit.

In the meantime the Council asks those who have complaints about cars to report their troubles. The Council's one object is to help market the 1917 crop so that the producer will not suffer and the consumer will be able to get potatoes. The 1917 crop must be marketed and used soon before the 1918 potato is ready for the market.

DIVISION QUARTERS ARE READY FOR USE

Quarters for the Prairie du Chien divisional staff of the C. M. & St. P. railroad have practically been completed and will be occupied early next week. J. A. McDonald, the division superintendent, will bring about 25 men with him from Milwaukee, the present headquarters. The staff will occupy the offices which are now being provided by the addition of a second story to the freight house.

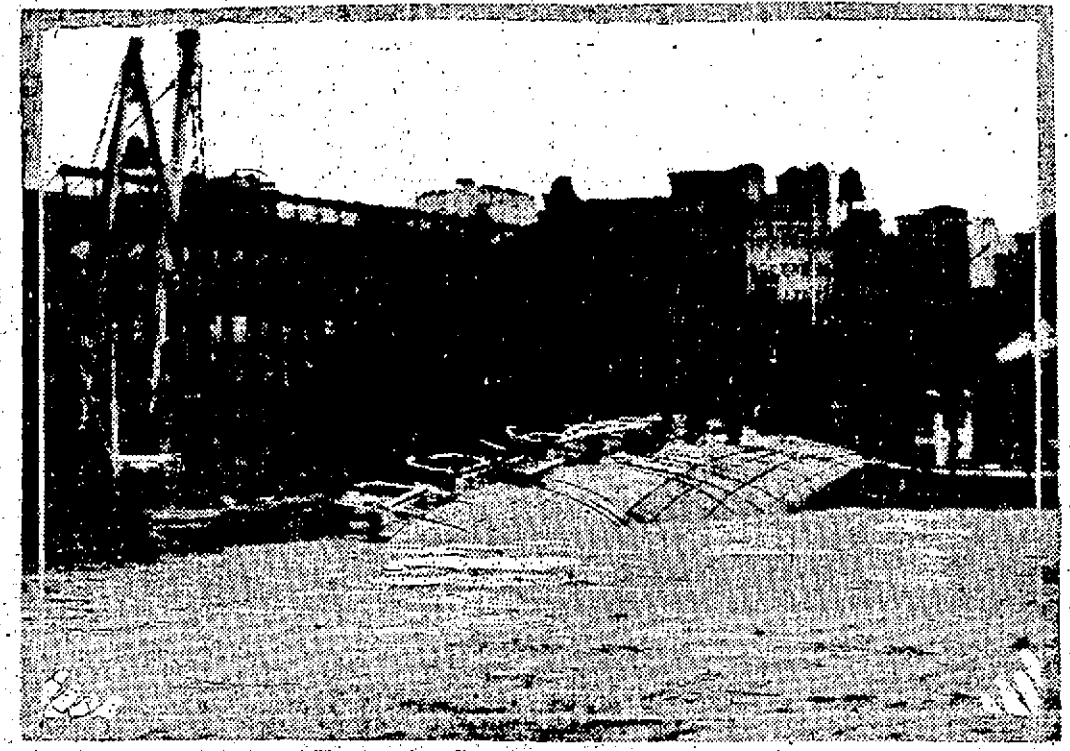

LIEUT. KESSENISH WRITES

Lieut. Harry Kessenish has written Madison relatives that he successfully finished the course at the American war school in France. He also said he expected to be assigned to a special line of work.

SUFFERS INJURY

CRACK AMERICAN LINER WHICH STRANGELY CAPSIZED TO BE RAISED AT ONCE AND PUT BACK INTO SERVICE

The American liner St. Paul, which strangely capsized at her pier a few days ago, is well under way. Besides the loss of the vessel for weeks there will be the loss of the dock where she lies which renders idle the sides of two piers which feed vessels in it. The St. Paul was launched in 1895, and since America's entrance into the war has been engaged in carrying troops and supplies to Europe.

SCHOOLS ENTER TYPING CONTEST

Preliminaries to be Held Here Saturday; Finals at Whitewater

Wisconsin will hold State Typewriting and Stenography contests, May 4, and 18, in which commercial students of all high schools of the state have been asked to participate. This is the first time that such a contest has been staged in this state, but the idea is not a new one. So far, 26 states have annual typing contests. The plan has been such a success that a National Typewriting league has been formed which promotes such contests. The purpose of the contest is to stimulate interest in accurate typewriting and stenography and bring about a closer relationship between commercial instructors and their pupils.

The preliminary contests will be held Saturday May 4. The state has been divided into convenient districts at which from 10 to 15 schools will be represented. The district in which Madison is represented will hold its contest at the local high school. The following schools will be represented at Madison: Sauk City, Prairie du Sac, Stoughton, Portage, Lodi, Waterloo, Middleton, Sun Prairie, Montello, and Pardeeville. Two winners will be selected from each contest and these will represent this district at the Whitewater Final Contest, Thursday, May 18. The winner of first place at that contest will be given a trophy cup which will become the property of the winning school only after it has secured first place two years. The cup will have engraved upon it the winner's name, his record, and the school he represents. Appropriate certificates will also be awarded to the winning school.

RED CROSS WORK WILL BE DESCRIBED

Detailed descriptions of Red Cross work will be furnished citizens of Madison Sunday afternoon at the high school auditorium by A. E. Wiggam, who has conducted extensive investigations abroad. First hand information concerning the way Red Cross work is done will be supplied by Mr. Wiggam, who went to France in February.
